

THE ART INSTITUTE OF SEATTLE

MOTION GRAPHIC -- STOP STRESS

The Art Institute of Seattle (AIS) in Seattle, Washington is one of The Art Institutes, a system of more than 50 educational institutions located throughout North America, providing education in design, media arts, fashion and culinary arts. The Art Institutes system is a subsidiary of Education Management Corporation (EDMC), which is headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

CLIENT

At AIS, programs are designed to provide graduates with the hands-on experience and practical knowledge needed to seek entry-level positions in the creative and applied arts.

The annual stress relief workshop provides a good understanding of how stress negatively affects students and help AIS students to take back control of their life.

BACKGROUND

AIS creates an annual stress relief workshop that helps students connect and share their problems. The upcoming workshop is on Oct 4, 2017 and the "Stop Stress" motion graphic will be shown during the introduction section of the workshop.

PURPOSE

The "Stop Stress" motion graphic will focus on raising awareness about stress and help AIS students understand the care of the school to the students and help their life much more manageable and happy.
